

Japan Airlines Expands International Network in Southeast Asia

Tokyo, September 6, 2018 – Japan Airlines (JAL) today announced that the carrier will expand its Southeast Asia regional network by launching a new route between Tokyo (Haneda) = Manila starting February 1, 2019.

Furthermore, JAL and Garuda Indonesia have signed a strategic partnership agreement, providing more travel options between the two countries. The two airlines will start offering codeshare flights on select routes to expand the Japan = Indonesia network.

The JAL Group will continue to embrace new challenges to deliver greater customer convenience and comfort, enhance its networks, and improve the quality of its products and services.

The following plans and schedules are subject to government approval.

Tokyo (Haneda) = Manila Route

With an influx of Japanese companies in the Philippines, the country is achieving remarkable economic growth where the demand for tourism from both Japan and the Philippines is expected to rise over time. By launching the Tokyo (Haneda) = Manila route, JAL looks to strengthen its presence in this diverse market.

By setting the departure time at midnight and arrival time during the early morning hours at Haneda airport, customers can seamlessly connect with flights throughout JAL's domestic network ¹.

Together with the existing flights from Narita, JAL will soon operate three daily flights to Manila providing customers with more convenient travel options.

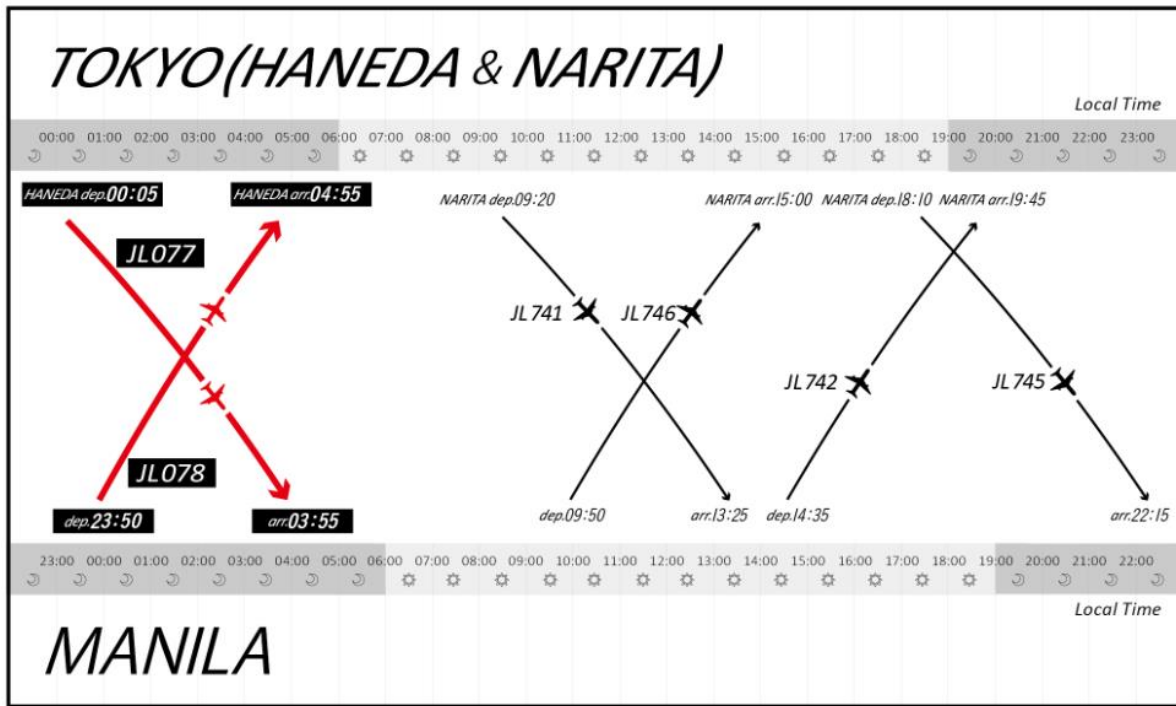

¹ Applicable to 34 domestic airports in Japan operating from/to Haneda .

- Reservations and ticket sales will begin Sep. 12, 2018. (14:00 Japan Time)
- In celebration of the Tokyo (Haneda) = Manila route, JAL plans to launch a campaign for JAL Mileage Bank members. Details of the campaign will be announced at a later date.
